

CURTIS LAWS WILSON LIBRARY

Library and learning resources at the Curtis Laws Wilson Library provides services and materials to support the university's academic programs. In addition to providing students with research resources and skills, the library is a place for collaborative learning. Spaces are technologically enabled, with resources such as the Nonavitra visualization wall, high performance computers, and computer learning centers (CLC).

The library provides many online full-text resources in addition to the print collection. Missouri S&T is a selective depository for United States government documents. Through interlibrary loan, the Missouri S&T collection is supplemented by materials owned by other libraries around the world.

The library is home to Scholars' Mine, the university's online repository of scholarly contributions created by S&T faculty and students. The library provides support on campus for scholarly communications and related questions such as copyright and data management planning. The Curtis Laws Wilson Library is also home to the S&T archives.

Librarians provide direct support and consultation with students and faculty. One-on-one research consultations are welcome, and librarians meet regularly with classes and student groups.

The library is Missouri S&T's gateway to the ever-expanding world of information. Students are encouraged to explore the library's homepage at <http://library.mst.edu>.
